On Nov. 10, at the 2015 New Mexico Hospitality and Tourism Awards Banquet in Albuquerque, the Comfort Suites and I came away with some nice awards. We received awards in the Product Development Category for Outstanding Attraction for our lobby display honoring all military, veterans and families and I received an award in the Hospitality Professional of the Year Category.

It was such an honor being there representing my hotel and my staff, of which none of our many awards would be at all possible without them. It was funny too, in these categories the other hotels, events, etc. were from the bigger New Mexico Markets like Albuquerque, Santa Fe and Las Cruces, were all the landmark full service hotels like the La Fonda, and Hilton, but there is the Comfort Suites right in the mix of things proving to me that while the Comfort Suites in Gallup may fall into the "Limited Service" category there is nothing "Limited" about our service and dedication to excellence.
