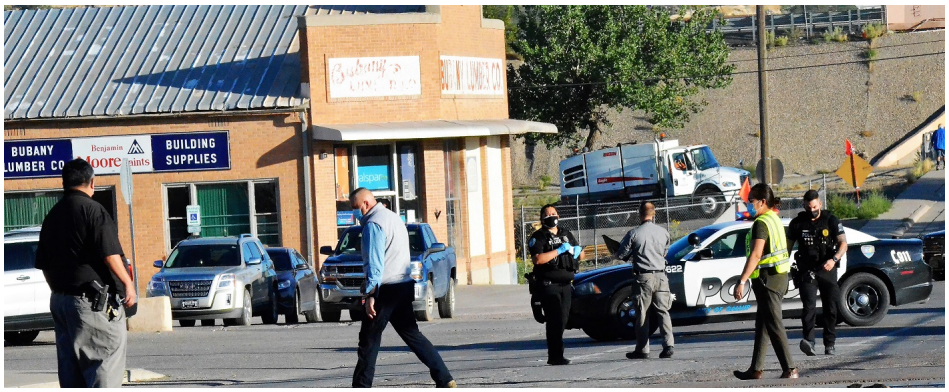
Gallup police discovered a dead body near the railroad tracks by Third Street early on Sept. 4.

The apparent cause of death was impact from a passing train. No other information about the victim has been released.


More information will be posted as it becomes available.