Family is a unique gift that needs to be appreciated and treasured, even when they're driving you crazy. As much as they make you mad, interrupt you, annoy you, curse at you, try to control you, these are the people who know you the best and who love you.

I have been highly favored by God with the family he has given and blessed me with.

Without family I wouldn't appreciate the woman I am today. I'm hardworking, I'm fearless, I'm strong, I have unconditional love, I'm sympathetic and the list goes on.

God has blessed me with a family so unique, they are the reason why I go out and do great things.

In his favor, I get to appreciate everything family has taught me and I'm still learning.

Whether the moments are so big to enjoy and so little to remember—it's those moments we look back [on] that make us smile.

Sometimes, "I love you," isn't the phrase we hear, but rather complete silence. Deep down we're thankful for those moments.

Appreciate your loved ones during holidays, during fights, during those small moments and so forth, because without them, we wouldn't be who we are today.
