Children and parents alike keen on science and singing, or both, may want to check out Curious Chris's interactive performance at the Children's Branch library, 200 W. Aztec Ave., June 6 at 2 pm.

From his Facebook page: "Curious Chris" infuses original acoustic music with hands-on science for young curious minds. Imagine a wacky mixture of Bill Nye, Curious George, Raffi, and the originality of retired elementary educator Chris Harrell – and that's Curious Chris!
