

This month, a 10-minute escape room, presented by the Gallup Repertory Theater, comes to town with the theme: Can you escape the doll factory?

The story is this: For years, the Dollmaker has been growing more and more reclusive, obsessed with creating the perfect living doll. You and your group find yourselves trapped in his workshop, with only 10 minutes to escape before he returns and decides to use YOU for his next experiment!

And the question is: Will you get out in time?

Date and Time: Oct. 19, 20, 21, 26, 27, 28 and 31. Time slots open every 15 minutes from 6-10 pm, and the Escape Room doors open at 5:30 pm for registrations.

Place: 111 S. 2nd Street, Gallup

Cost: $10 per person. This Escape Room is a project of Gallup Repertory Theater, and all funds raised will go toward producing the 2018-2019 season of plays.

Tickets: Stop by 111 S. 2nd street at the above dates and times to sign up, or buy tickets online at facebook.com/galluprep OR galluprep.org .

Age suitable for 12 and up, but it is recommended that all minors be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian.

The three teams/people to escape in the fastest time will be awarded a prize, and everyone who signs up will be entered in a raffle drawing.
