CELL SLAMMED

8/27, Gallup

McKinley County Sheriff's Office Deputy Anthony Morales said he was dispatched to the county jail at about 7 am Aug. 27 to take a report of an assault on an inmate by another inmate.

When he arrived, Morales met Valerie Lopez who said she was punched in the face three times by another inmate. She said she did not swing back at the inmate.

According to the report, at that point, correctional guards arrived, and Lopez said one of them slammed her against the wall and placed her in handcuffs.

She said she was not supposed to have been placed in handcuffs because she didn't do anything wrong.

Morales said he did not see any injuries on Lopez. He advised Lopez that he would be making a report, and it would be up to her to go to court and file charges against the other inmate, since it was a battery that Morales did not witness the event.
