

Madame G guide to the stars WEEK OF March 24

Written by Gallupsun Staff
Friday, 24 March 2017 10:04

Enjoy the promise of stillness during the New Moon on March 27. Venus parallel's Uranus from March 27-28 signifying a sense of adventure where your romantic entanglements are concerned. A combination like this will allow you some time to enjoy the moment right before you ask your crush out, or hit send on your manuscript. Madame G says enjoy and good luck!

Aries (March 21-April 19)

Hanging off the edge of a cliff? Maybe you're hanging on by a thread. It could be that you won't let go of a past that's tormenting you. At some point, you need to say: Fuck it! Not everything or everyone is worth hanging onto. Sometimes, you must let go in order to be free. This no easy task, but it's the most important thing you'll ever do. Don't look down. Go forward.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Are you a good witch or a bad witch? What do you see? In the end, good and bad may just be a matter of opinion. You won't have all the answers all the time. You can't win everyone over. This is your life. You must live it accordingly. No one will get all the credit. Only you will get the blame for a life poorly spent. And in turn, don't judge others so harshly. Try it.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

What's your favorite memory? Even if it's only a feeling figure out what makes you happy. This isn't the time for second guessing or worrying about the details. Savor your moments. Recognize where they come from. Hand out acknowledgements to those who treat you well. Lavish them with affection. In every moment, say thank you. And gratitude will follow. Do it now.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

There's a saying, wherever you go, there you are. You may think it's ridiculous. And it is. But, simplicity has a profound way of shaking us up. Where are you? You may not have everything you want or everything you think you need. You may not be who you want to be. But, you are where you are, and that's an awfully good start. In order to change just take a step. Go ahead. Be.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

What's important? It's easy for others to want you to get wrapped up in their latest diversion. This just takes away from what you want. If you love what they love, then by all means jump in. If you have doubts, or you just don't want to, you may want to reconsider. There is a very good rule of thumb for following others. If it's not a 'HELL YEAH'! It's a no. Have fun.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Mel Robins is a motivational speaker and writer of a new book entitled: The Five Second Rule. She's also a political news anchor on CNN. In a TedTalk, she gave an excellent piece of advice: "you're never going to feel like it." You're never going to feel like losing weight, moving on, getting up, or getting your degree. It's not about your feelings. Just get up and do it. Fail up!

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct.22)

Your life may feel a little stagnant. And you really only have one person to blame. No, it's not you or your kids. It's just life. Stop feeling guilty and stop wasting time blaming yourself. It's fine that you're tired and a little worn down. This too shall pass. You'll get up and dust yourself off again. Just give it some time. Berating yourself doesn't help. So, get outside and have fun.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Yoda said: "Do. Or do not. There is no try." Stop trying. This doesn't mean you should give up or veg out on the couch all day. It does mean you should let the guilt and anger go. You haven't done it yet. Get out there and run your 5K, 13K, or full marathon. Lose 50, 100, or 150 lbs. Write that novel or get that degree. Whatever the case, you're holding back. Cut the cord. GO!

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Are you looking for a sign? Maybe you're waiting for God, gods, or some goddesses to descend from the heavens and provide inspiration. You may even look for meaning or a muse to spring out and kick you in the ass. You may want to hold your breath. Because it's never going to happen. Stop waiting. Start going. You don't need anything, but what you have already. Enough.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Mark Manson wrote a profoundly freeing work entitled: The Subtle Art of Not Giving a F*ck. The point is not indifference. In fact, if you're indifferent you're a coward. No, the key to life and the art of not trying means not caring about unimportant things. Go ahead, care about what's important and not what's not. Give up changing the world. Be happy instead or you know, not.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Stop staring ahead. You can't overanalyze everything to death. All you'll do is prevent yourself from taking action. This is the time for taking the lead and heading forward into the great unknown. You've mapped and planned. You're good to go. The only thing you may want to do is enlist the help of some friends. A quest is always more fun with friends or adopt a dog. Yay!

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20)

Madame G guide to the stars WEEK OF March 24

Written by Gallupsun Staff
Friday, 24 March 2017 10:04

Everything comes to end. You're heading out on a new journey and it's terrifying. Don't worry about what you don't want. Just be grateful for what you have. This is the life you have and it's not going to be better or worse than this. Be grateful, you're here. You have the chance to experience and learn. Take advantage of every step with open arms. Bon voyage!