

The Sun is in Taurus. This earthy aspect highlights the need for outdoor exploration and the power of feminine energy. Exude strength by providing shelter for the weak. Listen when others shout. Breathe deep and show kindness and love. Madame G recommends leaning into your feminine strength. You're more powerful than you know. Your time is now. Be heard. Listen.

Aries (March 21-April 19)

You have masculine grace. This comes through the firey tone in your voice. The heat in your eyes and the electricity in your touch. Others fear and adore these qualities. Remember, a raging fire is extinguished by a steady stream. Take heart! You may find happiness in the balance of life. If you find that special someone, who provides a cooling gaze—keep them close.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Your heart is full. Perhaps you feel drawn and quartered between two competing ideals: passion or money. It might be wise to re-think your strategy. It's not unreasonable to desire both. Once your basic needs have been met, you'll seek higher forms. What brings you joy? You may find that life takes you on a journey of self-discovery that ends up on your front porch. Lovely!

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Where do you go from here? Balance is not always obvious especially in love and life and work life balance. If you're finding that it's harder and harder to have it all. Take a moment to step back and reassess the situation. You may be overlooking something. You might just be trying too hard. If you want to find the answer step back, let go of the outcome, and breathe. This is life.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

You're ready for the next stage. If you pursued your passions to the final stages and you realize—you've gone as far as you can go. Stop. Back up. It's okay to change your mind and review your wishes. It's a cruel thing that we make our youth chose their life's path while they're children. You may have many paths. They're not wrong. They're you. Good luck!

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

The mighty lion roars. A thorn torments his paw. He can't get it out. A kindly mouse bravely steps forward and plucks it out. What's the moral? Even a mighty king requires help once in a while and a lowly creature may provide wisdom and dexterity. So, don't look down on others. If they need a helping hand always show grace. You may be in need someday too.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

You're going on a fantastic adventure. If only all of life could be a day at Meow-Wolf. Alas, there are responsibilities and mortgages to pay. But, this shouldn't stop you from moving onward. Growing up and "adulthood" doesn't mean giving up or giving in. Instead it means taking on the adventure of life in a new light. This is not the end. It is the beginning. Once upon a time.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct.22)

Madame G recommends one thing: rest. But, here's the thing, if you step away from the office—rest. Put down the phone and email. Stop taking the work with you. They'll survive without you. More importantly, you'll survive without them. This is how it works. You need rest in order to function at your best. Take all that you are and lock away the phone. You need this. GO!

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

SO this is love...You may find yourself feeling out of kilter. Maybe you feel stressed and pressured at work. If so take a moment for yourself. You may be imagining all the pressures and ill will. Don't take your anger out on others. In the end, you're a powerful creature. Others are drawn to your strengths and even what you perceive as weakness. You'll be fine. Breathe.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

You must take action. Stop wallowing in pity and self-doubt. This will only result in sadness and self-hate. Do yourself a favor. Walk out the door and push yourself. What are you running from? Who are you hiding from? This is all part of life. You may need to make changes. You may need to seek shelter with a friend. But, in the end it'll all be worth it. You'll find yourself.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Your heart is adrift with worry. Knock it off! This unease is killing you. Even if it all falls apart, so what? Is it worth the loss to mind, body, soul, or relationships? The journey of life is about discovery and journey—not the destination—that's the grave. All life is suffering and pain (so say the Buddhists) let go of desire and you'll find happiness. It's right in front of you.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

You're a true philosopher at heart. You may have an understanding of a few things down and you may forget to tie your shoes. This is thought. You must learn to balance lofty thoughts with daily concerns. It's hard to write in sh*t. It's even harder to think on an empty stomach. Most great philosophers have lots in common—they're dead. Join us among the living.

Your hearts in the right place. But, maybe you're confused. If you think your losing your mind or have seen another side to a friend—don't fret. This is all part of the plan. You must continue to work hard on yourself discovery. Don't trust people who promise without delivery. Remember this, a promise without a contract doesn't mean anything. Get it in writing.
